Inga Councillors held their regular monthly meeting in Stony Plain on Friday last. The House was war up for discussion and when all the arguments pro and con had been heard, the whole matter was laid over until next spring. This is the much-disputed question settled for the time-being. A large number of bills were presented for road work performed this season, and these were ordered paid if found correct. Don McDonald, special constable at Edmonton Beach, presented his report of the work performed.

A good-sized delegation from Stony Plain journeyed by motor car to Onoway on Friday last, to attend the U. F. A. Political Ass'n convention called to nominate a candidate to contest the West Edmonton Federal constituency. Mr Washburn headed the delegation, and there was with him Messrs C Becker, J Phelan, P. W. Trautman, C Propp, A Burger and others. The convention opened with W C Turnbull in the chair. After a number of speeches had been delivered, it was unanimously decided that no candidate would be placed in the running for the forthcoming election. Their support is assured to a Labor candidate if one is nominated, but it was felt that no independent action should be taken by the U. F. A.

How Do Your Children Grow?

Only a few more days remain of the summer holiday season, and soon boys and girls all over the land will be trooping back to school. Johnny, who was in the fourth grade last year, has passed into the fifth, while Beasle has moved from the eighth grade into high school. They are looking forward to meeting their new teachers and becoming acquainted with new school mates. Their advancement from grade to grade are milestones along the way indicating one form of growth.

In our modern school system both Johnny and Beasle were examined last term by the school nurse and their height and weight recorded to ascertain if they were normally developed for their ages or underweight. From time to time their weights were checked to determine if they were making gains or losses. Johnny gained nearly five pounds during the last term, but Beasle did not do quite so well. The same system of checking up their physical condition will be continued this term. This is growth in another way revealed and recorded.

From year to year teachers and parents can follow the growth of the children under their care in these two respects. Examination papers, marks received, application displayed in studies, passing from grade to grade, into high school and college, tell the story of mental growth, increase in knowledge, and development of those powers of thought and concentration which mark the advancement of our modern civilization. Measurement charts and weight tables, increased application in study, more vigorous enjoyment of sports and all forms of outdoor recreation, in like manner reveal physical growth. These two things are fully demonstrable, and through our modern methods in education we demonstrate them. We know, by comparison of records extending over a period of years, that the standard of intelligence is higher and that the span of life is being lengthened.

It is well that these tests and measurements of the mental and physical development of the younger generation should be made, that records be kept, and that these be compared and analyzed so that we may know where strength and weakness exists, and thus learn the correctness of fitness of the methods being employed.

Our school system, however, has a greater function to perform than the giving of knowledge, the development of boys' or girls' mental faculties, and the encouragement of right living leading to physical health and strength. These things are, after all, but the foundation stones upon which to erect that noble structure which true education is designed to build—character. Our examination tests and physical records do not, and cannot, reveal whether as a result of the school term any hardening of character has been added to the wobbly parts of any boy's moral backbone, or any of the essence of spirituality made more fragrant any girl's standard of conduct. Intellectual equipment and bodily vigor without character only serve to launch into the world a man or woman capable of doing greater harm than they could otherwise do. On the other hand, the development of a fine character, supported by bodily vigor and those attainments and refinements with which education endows, results in giving to the world the greatest of all gifts. Character training should be the aim of education, first, last, and all the time. No child is too young to begin it; no student is old enough to dispense with it. Those who provide education, whether it be the teacher, the parent, boards of school trustees, or the taxpayer who money maintains our educational system in its entirety, are engaged in fitting others to take their places in the life and activities of the world. They must not forget the fundamentals.

Life is becoming more strenuous year by year; the newcomer must be better equipped than the one whose place he takes. Activity crowds upon activity, distraction upon distraction. Science and invention is setting a swift pace which calls for all the resources of mental and physical power of which the race is capable. But above all it calls for strong characters, men and women of sterling honesty, uprightness of purpose, high ideals and noble ambitions.

Within the first quarter of this present century greater advancements in science and invention have been made than in any like period in the world's history. The world has moved forward at an unprecedented rapid pace, and the developments of the past twenty-five years have but opened the way to even more momentous and still more rapid strides in the years just ahead. The boys and girls of today must be fitted for the great responsibilities which will be theirs. If they have character they will rise to the occasion; lacking it, danger signals can be seen on every hand.

Character is the perpetual reminder that education carries with it a responsibility. How do your children grow? In mental attainments; towards physical perfection; in strength of character?

Paris Clerk Gives Gallons of Blood To Heal Sick

Having given 22 liters, roughly five gallons, of his blood in 87 transfusions and operations since November, 1924, Raymond Bries claims to have established a record. Bries is a healthy looking, fresh complexioned young man, employed in the clerk market of Paris. He is 29 years old, is married, and leads a normal life, going to the office every day.

He happened one day to visit a sick friend in a hospital and met Dr. Becart, who stopped him and said, "You have a splendid looking pair of cheeks, I have good use for you."

He had his blood analyzed and the first operation was performed, which since then he has repeated almost continuously. Dr. Becart presented him to the International Congress on Surgery in 1925 and an American doctor offered him $25,000 to come to America.

Bridges Built In Dark Ages

Eighteenth Century Engineers Had To Re-invent Principles Of Construction

It is a curious light upon the interpretation of our common term, "the dark ages," that those "dark ages" should have given England nearly all the bridges she had till the time of the Georges, for bridge building perished with the destruction of the monasteries, and even the principles had to be re-invented by eighteenth century engineers.

One-third of the 116 deaths attributed to heart disease and the same proportion of 19 laid to apoplexy during July were traceable directly or indirectly to alcohol, according to Health Commissioner Francis E. Out of the 29 deaths admittedly due to alcoholism during the month, 14 were caused by wood alcohol poisoning, the commissioner's report says.

Encourage Canadian Authors

Assistance Should Be Given To Canadian Writers Dealing With Canadian Material

The advice of Robert Watson, Canadian novelist and poet, given at a session of the Canadian Authors' convention in Vancouver, was to make literature a crutch rather than a staff. The Canadian reading public was limited and where two or three well known authors had their works distributed years ago, there were scores today. He thought, however, that Canadian writers should get a number of level-headed businessmen to take up the question of syndicating by Canadian newspapers, Canadian material by Canadian authors. He laid special stress upon the fact that while the American Government taxed the work of Canadians going into the United States, the Canadian Government put no taxes upon the enormous flood of American literature circulated in Canada.

A very interesting talk upon his experiences with publishers was given by Arthur Hemming, noted Canadian author and illustrator.

Valuable Tree Planting Work Is Having the Effect Of Changing the Prairie Landscape

A gradual change in the general prairie landscape is taking place in Western Canada as a result of the co-operative tree-planting work being carried on by the forestry branch of the department of the interior. This change is particularly striking to those who were familiar with conditions as they existed in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta some twenty-five years or thirty years ago. Thousands of shelter-belts have been established from seedlings, cuttings and transplants distributed from the nursery stations at Indian Head and Sutherland, Saskatchewan, and the work has grown to such proportions that during the spring of 1925 over 5,500,000 seedlings and cuttings of such varieties as maple, ash, caragana, poplar and willow were sent out. In addition to these broadleaf varieties over 50,000 evergreen spruce and pine trees were distributed at nominal cost for general farm planting and about 60,000 for planting on forest reserves in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

The progress of this important work will be better realized by a brief statement of the results obtained since it was inaugurated in 1901. The first distribution consisted of 53,300 seedlings supplied to 47 farmers in Manitoba and the Northwest Territories. In 1902 this was increased to 466,000 plants to 496 farms. The demand grew rapidly in subsequent years and in 1916 the number of seedlings had reached 1,460,000. Since then the annual distribution has continued between four and a half million and five and a half million, the total distribution for the twenty-five year period being 47,005,000 trees to 160,300 farmers scattered over the three prairie provinces.

During recent years the distribution has been carried on from two stations, Indian Head making shipments to Southern Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, and Sutherland to the northern districts. Careful check is kept of all material sent out until the plantations can be considered as fairly well established and no trees are allotted to an applicant until inspection and inquiry indicate that land has been properly cultivated in preparation to receive the young trees. In most cases special plans are prepared in the office of the tree planting division at Indian Head during the winter time for the guidance of the individual planter in the spring. This season some 2,297 plans were so prepared and during the summer the inspector will visit those who received trees to see that the stock has been properly planted and is being given reasonable care and cultivation.

The tree planting inspectors started out on their annual trips over their respective territories in the latter part of May and about 11,200 farms are on their lists to be visited. A staff of eight inspectors will be engaged in this work until the winter sets in, each visiting an average of 1,400 prospective planters. Unfavorable weather conditions last year cut short the inspection period, but reports show that 5,700 plantations were visited of which over 75 per cent. were in first-class shape, 20 per cent. fair, and only a little over 6 per cent. neglected. Those classed as fair could with a little care, and attention on the part of the owners, be put in good shape.

The effect of tree planting on the social and economic life of the prairie provinces is considerable. Shelter belts have made the homestead more home-like and comfortable, while by checking the high prairie winds and conserving moisture the production of the farm is increased. The farmers of Western Canada quickly realized the value of planting trees and in the large and steady demand for material is seen their approval of this important work.

Creamery Buttermaking

Composition of Product Must Be Controlled Within Narrow Limits
Commercial buttermaking in Canada is not the easy task it was comparatively few years ago when all that was necessary was to manufacture butter having good flavor, body, texture, color, etc., regardless of the percentage composition of fat, water and salt. According to a new bulletin on Canadian creamery buttermaking issued by the dairy branch of the department of agriculture, the butter-maker of today is required not only to manufacture butter having good workmanship, but also to control the composition of his product within very narrow limits. For instance, economical conditions demand that the moisture content of butter be not less than 15.5 per cent., while butter containing more than 16 per cent. water or less than 80 per cent. fat, is illegal. The salt content of butter is also very important and must be carefully regulated. Every detail in the process of making butter of high quality fulfilling all marketing requirements is described in the new bulletin, which may be obtained from the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Russian Purchases Canadian Horses
From 500 to 600 Alberta horses are being purchased for shipment to Russia. These are animals weighing from 1,000 to 1,100 pounds, rather light for the Alberta demand, but just what the Russians need. This is in the nature of a test order and if the horses give satisfaction it is expected that repeat orders on a larger scale will be received.

Canadian Harvest Important

A Strong Demand For Canadian Wheat In World's Markets

According to the latest crop report issued by the Canadian Government bureau of statistics, the wheat crop of Canada for 1925 is estimated at 318,625,000 bushels. Last year's Canadian wheat harvest yielded 411,276,000 bushels.

In a general review of world crop conditions the report adds, "that production estimates from eighteen countries show that this year's total world wheat crop will probably be 2,175,700,000 bushels, compared with 2,201,500,000 last year."

"Judging by general conditions in other countries," the report continues, "the general outlook appears to be for a strong demand for the Canadian crop, now in its critical stages, so that the Canadian yield will again be a very important factor."

"There is an increase this year in sown acreage of one and a half per cent. in countries other than Canada and the United States the sown acreage is less, but the increase of 600,000 acres sown in Canada, and 5,187,000 acres in the United States recovers the balance."

"The French crop is reported unofficially as below the 1925 yield, and France probably will be an importer this year. Floods are reported from Germany. India is not expected to be able to spare any appreciable quantity of wheat for exports."

Big Wool Clip

It is anticipated that the wool clip in Southern Alberta will reach the 2,000,000 pound mark this year. Of this a million and a quarter pounds will be handled through the Canadian Cooperative Wool Growers' Association. The fleeces this year are stated to be unusually large.

Seed Oats From Manitoba

The Solagirth Oat Growers' Association of Solagirth, Man., grew and prepared 30,000 bushels of registered seed last year and has practically disposed of it all, shipments going to every province in Canada, to the United States, and a choice shipment of 1,500 bushels to the Argentine.

Clemenceau Appeals To U. S. Not To Treat War Debts As A Purely Commercial Matter

American Settlers

This Year Witnesses Increased Movement of Settlers From U. S. To Canada

Marked activity in the movement of settlers from United States to Canada is noted by the department of immigration and colonization. In the month of June the Canadian Government agency at Fargo, North Dakota, was instrumental in moving to Canada 195 settlers, who, with their wives and families, represent a population of 312 people. They brought with them cash and effects valued at $495,500—almost half a million dollars. These settlers were almost entirely from the states of North Dakota and Minnesota, and were destined to Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, British Columbia and Ontario. They are practical farmers, attracted by the advantages which Canada offers to agriculturists. Forty of these families made the trip to their new Canadian homes by automobile. The movement from the Fargo territory in June, 1925, was 155 persons greater than June, 1925.

Preserving the Wapiti

The three hundred wapiti placed in the Jasper National Park, Alberta, a few years ago have now increased to fifteen hundred. In addition to these there are 350 of this otherwise nearly exterminated animal in Buffalo Park, Wainwright, and 220 in Elk Island Park.

Sea Fish Haul

The total quantity of sea fish landed in Canada last month on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts was 100,350,200 pounds, valued at $3,608,468, compared with 95,238,400 pounds, valued at $3,297,812, during June, 1925. This is an increase of 4,111,800 pounds.

Tony, Waiter and Angler

When one goes camping in the wilds, it is absolutely necessary for one to provide the food, cook, then eat it. But why one should catch fish, supervise the cooking of it and then serve it to people whom one has never seen before seems to be the act of one suffering from over-kindliness. However there is one man in this country who feels it a duty to do this generous act, and instead of boasting of his prowess as an angler, but to treat people and serve them with what he thinks is the greatest food for a summer dish.

Umberto Tarallo, head waiter, captain, at the Head Springs Hotel, widely known as "Tony," when not serving guests of the hotel at meal hours, takes a boat, also his fishing tackle, which is composed of the very best rods available, with every known fly, and ventures to the Bow River to patiently all-day wait for the fish to take the bait. Often he may be seen as early as 5 a.m. with his inevitable fishing rod. When he has had good sport, he takes the fish to the chef of the hotel and supervises the cooking with the experience of the best Italian or French chef.

Then he himself, makes a special point of serving the fish to people who desire the delicious morsel, and his smile of gratification grows with every call for his fish.

He first introduced the idea on the morning of the opening of the new dining room of the Canadian Pacific Hotel at Banff. The following morning he had more orders than he could cope with, so now he spends every available moment to secure the Bantry breakfast for his friends, as he now calls the guests.

A New Breed Of Cattle

Yakalos Now Being Developed At Wainwright National Park

The new breed of livestock called "Yakalos" is being developed in the national park at Wainwright by crossing buffalos with yaks.

"Yakalos" combine the meat producing qualities of the yak with the foraging characteristics of the buffalo, said G. B. Rothwell, director of the animal husbandry division of the department of agriculture. The new animals breed true to type, he said, and have proved more adaptable than "catalo," evolved several years ago by crossing buffalo with domestic cattle. Catalos are sterile.

The meat of Yakalos is described as almost identical with beef, aside from being finer grained. The animals are hardy, can forage for themselves, are capable of wintering in the open, and are resistant to many of the common diseases of domestic cattle.

Seeding Down To Grasses and Clovers

The Proper Place In Rotation to Seed Grass and Clover Mixture

Tests made during eleven years at the Brandon, Manitoba, experimental farm in order to determine the proper place in a rotation in which to seed down a grass and clover mixture have brought out several important factors. It is shown that the use of a nurse crop, especially wheat, is more economical than seeding the grasses or clovers alone. Seeding of corn land is advantageous provided the corn has received good cultural management. The application of manure to first year stubble previous to seeding down has not proved to be economical. Maximum yields are not likely to be obtained where second year stubble is seeded down.

Philadelphia Exposition is Confronted With A Debt of Large Proportions
The Sesqui-centennial Exposition not only faces court action to prevent operation of its amusements on Sundays, but it is also confronted with a huge operating deficit and needs $3,700,000 to meet outstanding obligations. Despite these developments, however, Mayor Kendrick took an optimistic view of the situation, asserting that the celebration of the one hundred and fiftieth birthday of American independence was cheap at any price and that he was confident the citizens of Philadelphia would support and encourage the Sesqui directors.

Some New Answers

New answers were given to old questions in a test given recently to high school sophomores at Sacramento, Cal. "Alcohol is made from gasoline," "air brakes are used on balloons," "forgeside is a kind of marmalade," and "bacon comes from a cow," were some of the answers.

Canada's National Emblem

Union Jack Is Only Suitable Flag For Dominion

What objection can be raised to the Union Jack as Canada's national emblem? This Dominion is a part of the British Empire. No person openly advocates separation. But the only argument that the Sentinel can think of for a distinctive flag must rest upon Canadian independence.

Assuming that Canada is to remain a part of the empire, then the Union Jack is not only suitable, but highly desirable as the flag of this Dominion. It is an emblem of liberty. It has a history of which every man and woman of British blood should be proud. It is emblematic of the highest type of civilization to which mankind has yet attained. It speaks of service, not only to one race, but to all races—world service in the broadest sense of the term. It is respected by all nations, and it is feared by aggressors against freedom.

The Union Jack is part of an inheritance that includes even-handed justice to all classes, the right to civil and religious liberty, personal freedom to live according to one's conscience, and glorious traditions that have marked the advances of humanity to higher levels with each succeeding generation.

To supplant it with any other design, no matter how artistic it may be, it to rob the Canadian people of their invaluable inheritance accumulated through centuries of earnest strivings for what is best.

Let Canada keep the Jack as its national emblem—Sentinel, Toronto.

Slender Lines Find Favor

The rich designs of the bordered materials form decided trimming features in themselves. Cut to slip over the head, and with a convertible collar that may be fastened high, this distinctive-looking frock for daytime wear is developed in bordered crepe of graduated polka-dot pattern. A single large tuck in front of each shoulder gives easy fullness over the bust, and the long full sleeves are gathered into narrow wristbands. There are two large patch pockets, and a narrow belt is worn at the low waistline. No. 1197 is in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust. Size 36 bust requires 3 1/2 yards 36-inch, or 3 1/2 yards 46-inch, or 2 1/2 yards 54-inch bordered material, as pictured. Price 20 cents. The secret of distinctive dress lies in good taste rather than a lavish expenditure of money. Every woman should want to make her own clothes, and the home dressmaker will find the designs illustrated in our new Fashion Book to be practical and simple, yet maintaining the spirit of the mode of the moment. Price of the book 10 cents the copy.

New Industry For Palestine

Government Establishes Plants to Take Salt From Dead Sea

The Palestine Government proposes to erect a plant for the recovery of thirty odd billion tons of salt from the Dead Sea, and very soon huge chemical factories and warehouses will be established round the lake, and the peace and quiet of centuries will give place to the ceaseless whir of wheels. It is remarkable that one of the most desolate spots in the world should suddenly acquire such tremendous economic importance. In all the billion tons of salt in the Dead Sea, only about ten tons is common salt. The remainder consists of salts of potassium and magnesium, an abundance of which will make Palestine the richest potash country in the world. In appearance this strange sea, challenges the Mediterranean with its clarity and blueness, but so deathly still are its waters that they have earned it its gruesome name.

Potential Murderers

Vendors of Deadly Alcoholic Brew and Their Work

What must be thought of the concocters and the vendors of this fatal brew? They must know it to be deadly in its effects, and that anyone who drinks it does so at the risk of his life. Are they not potential murderers? Technically they may not be guilty of murder, for their purpose is not to kill but to make money; and yet, callously careless as they are of human life, and knowing as they must that every bottle they sell may be the instrument of death, their offence more closely resembles murder than does the act of a man who, under the stress of a sudden gust of anger, strikes and kills—Hamilton Herald.

Will Cover Large Range

Many Subjects To Be Discussed At Empire Parley

The agenda of the imperial conference to be held in London in October will cover a wide variety of subjects. The agenda is incomplete as yet, but some of the matters to be discussed have been announced.

These are promotion of inter-imperial trade, including the work of the imperial economic committees and the empire marketing grant; overseas settlement; economical defence and currency within the empire; exhibition within the empire of empire films; the work of the imperial shipping committee; airship service and empire air route; co-ordination in technical field of state enterprises to taxation.

There are still some subjects to be announced, Sir Henry Drayton, acting prime minister, said.

Gave Practical Demonstration

Famous Scientist Records "Heart Beats" of Snaphragon

Sir Jagadis Chandra Bose, the famous Hindu scientist, who says plants have heart pulsations, caused something of a sensation before the British Association by revealing the "heart beats" of the snaphragon by means of a delicate apparatus.

His apparatus, part of which was introduced to the assemblage of scientists for the first time, recorded the action of the snaphragon's heart beat.

Sir Jagadis also demonstrated that nervous reactions in plants are stimulated by drugs in the same way as human beings.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS: DUTIES TO GOD

Golden Text: Thou shalt love Jehovah thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might. Deuteronomy 6:5.
Lesson: Exodus 19:1-20:11.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 137:1-14.

Explanations and Comments

The Preface to the Commandments: The Appeal to History, verses 1, 2: "And God spake all these words. We call these words the Ten Commandments, the Decalogue from the two Greek words deka, ten, and logos, word. The children of Israel had already attained to a knowledge of these religious and moral principles—they knew that they should not worship idols and should not kill—but here at Sinai they learned that these principles were from God. "They may have thought that they had found out all this for themselves, but the real Leader had been the Spirit of the Lord. It is important for us to remember that God was in all the process of moral training which led up to Sinai, as well as at Sinai itself" (Bishop Francis J. McConnell). "We cannot suppose that Moses was a mere mechanical instrument in conveying their laws to Israel from Jehovah, or in emphasizing great principles of religion or civil order in practical institutions. God uses instruments that are fit" (Dr. A. B. Davidson).

Possible to Broadcast Heat Waves

It is no more improbable to broadcast heat waves than it is to broadcast sound waves, according to Prof. E. S. Dibble, of the Carnegie Institute of Technology. Discovery or invention of instruments capable of controlling heat waves, and a detector that will hold the waves and amplify them are the main need.

"Do you like shrimps, Helen?"

"Oh, George, you're not so small!"

MANY ARE KILLED AS RESULT OF FIGHT IN MEXICO

Mexico City.—The department of the interior announces that it has no knowledge of the incidents mentioned by Archbishop Ruiz y Flores, who has arrived from Michoacan, has informed the Archbishopric that two Catholic priests and between 27 and 37 Catholic citizens were executed by the military authorities on August 1 and 2 on a charge of heading an uprising growing out of the religious situation.

The archbishop reported that the disturbances occurred in three towns in the states of Michoacan and Guanajuato. A battle between soldiers and citizens lasted for a day in the town of Zahuayo, Michoacan. The bishop estimates that probably about 50 persons were killed in the battle. The other two towns where disturbances occurred were Acambaro and Trapusto in the state of Guanajuato.

Archbishop Ruiz y Flores said that the people of Zahuayo refused to deliver the Catholic churches to the municipal committees appointed to take them over after the priests had ceased to function on July 31. A group of 50 soldiers arrived from a nearbyarrison and fired upon the people, who took up positions in the church towers and house roofs and engaged in a day's exchange of shots. The next day federal reinforcements arrived and subdued the Catholics. The soldiers then executed two priests and the leaders of the citizens.

Calls King A Coward

R. B. Bennett Uses Some Harsh Words At Woodstock Meeting

Woodstock, Ont.—Speaking at the convention of North Oxford Conservatives here, Hon. R. B. Bennett, federal minister of finance, charged that by seeking a dissolution "in order to escape the verdict of the House of Commons on the Stevens amendment," former Premier Mackenzie King had proven himself to be "the greatest coward who has ever held the office of prime minister of Canada."

"I use these words deliberately," said Mr. Bennett. "It is ridiculous to say that he asked for a dissolution in the public welfare and because there was a breaking-away from proper government. There was a breaking-away of his Progressive supporters because the public welfare meant more to them than the fortunes of a political party. A ballot for the Liberal party is a ballot to condemn the conduct of Mackenzie King."

Swedish-Austrian Treaty

Is Eighth in Series to Make War Illegal

Stockholm.—An unlimited arbitration treaty, making war illegal under all circumstances has been concluded between Sweden and Austria, the eighth in a series of somewhat similar nature recently signed by the Swedish Government with various European neighbors. The previous ones were with Norway, Finland, Denmark, Poland, Belgium, Czechoslovakia and Germany.

Funeral Of Hon. George Bolvin

Granby, Que.—Attended by the sorrowing relatives and representatives of the governor-general, the late parliament, political colleagues and the Quebec bar, the remains of the late Hon. George H. Bolvin, ex-minister of customs, were brought to his birthplace and, after the mass at the birth church, were committed to the grave, where the body will rest beside those of Mr. Bolvin's father and mother.

Customs Probe At Halifax

Ottawa.—It is expected that investigation into the administration of the department of customs will be resumed at Halifax on Wednesday, August 25. Word to this effect has been received here. "It was thought that the investigation would be resumed at an earlier date, but this is now unlikely."

The total British national debt is about 174 pounds per capita.

Deals With Robb Budget

Hon. Chas. A. Dunning Addresses Audiences in Ontario

Stirred, Ont.—There was a large gathering at the town of Mitchell to hear Hon. Charles A. Dunning, minister of railways and canals in the King administration, who spoke in the interests of Fred G. Sanderson, the Liberal candidate in that riding. Michael Hagarty, president of the South Ontario Railway Association, presided, and gave a brief address, as did also the candidate, Mr. Sanderson. Mr. Dunning claimed that the people of the west knew the people of the east knew the west, and gave as the reason the fact that so many residents of the west were natives of Ontario.

Mr. Dunning spoke at length on the trouble in the customs department and praised the work of the late Hon. George H. Bolvin.

He dealt at some length with the Robb budget and declared that it was the best the country had experienced since confederation, particularly in the benefits which had been given to the man of modest means. He gave a somewhat detailed statement regarding the tariff board plan and declared that such a board was merely to secure information so that parliament might have some definite basis on which to judge changes in tariffs.

No Interference Reported

Sir Henry Thornton Says He Has No Complaint to Make Regarding Political Interference

Brandon, Man.—Premier Melglen produced telegrams exchanged between himself and Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, in regard to allegations of political interference with the Canadian National management. Mr. Melglen read the correspondence at his meeting here. It opens with the following telegram from Mr. Melglen to Sir Henry, dated August 6:

"Statements are being made that the present government, including myself, have been and are interfering with the management of the National Railways. I ask you to wire me whether there is the slightest foundation for these assertions and if so to advise me what it is."

Sir Henry's reply follows: "I have received your telegram of August 6 reading as follows: (here Sir Henry quotes the text of Mr. Melglen's message). Sir Henry then adds: 'In reply I have to say that the administration of the Canadian National Railways has no complaint whatever with respect to the attitude of the present government or, indeed, the preceding government in their relation to the National Railway system.'"

B.C. Sheep For Russia

Vancouver.—Forty-six pure-bred Hampshire sheep, purchased in British Columbia for the Russian Soviet Government, were shipped on board the Japanese steamer Paris Maru for Vladivostok. The animals ranged in price from $25 to $40 each. They were selected by Arthur Morton, Dominion sheep promoter for British Columbia.

Returned After Many Years

Owen Sound, Ont.—A Parkie, of this city, received through the mail a letter which he posted on Sept. 27, 1898, almost 25 years ago, to his brother-in-law James Stewart, at that time resident in Marquette, Michigan. Mr. Parkie mailed the letter from Williamsford where he was in business at that time and it had never been delivered.

Count Plunkett's Daughter Arrested

Dublin.—Fiona Plunkett, daughter of Count Plunkett, well known Republican member of the Dail, was among a dozen Dublinites arrested on charges of the theft of books and papers belonging to money lenders. They also were charged with the possession of arms and remanded for 9 weeks.

Not An Ultimatum

Sofia, Bulgaria.—The diplomatic representatives of Yugoslavia, Rumania and Greece, have handed a collective note to the Bulgarian foreign minister regarding the activities of the Bulgarian irregulars. The substance of the note was withheld, but it is known that it is not in the nature of an ultimatum.

SUBJECTS WHICH WILL COME UP AT EMPIRE PARLEY

London.—Forecasts in the newspapers here with regard to the subjects to be discussed at the Imperial conference in October which "seemingly are based more or less on semi-official information reveal little more than was suggested a short time ago. With reference to the status of the Dominions, The Manchester Guardian says the subject possibly will be raised by Canada or South Africa but if not, it certainly will be raised by the Irish Free State.

As to the alleged anomaly complained of by the Irish Free State in the continuance of the system of the governor-general signing all the dispatches from the Irish to the British Government, The Guardian says it regards this as really not of much importance.

Much more important, The Guardian continued, is the declaration that "no one shall possess power to have any say in regard to the work of a Dominion to interfere with it or veto it, except the Government of that Dominion." In practice this is recognized, The Guardian says, but what is demanded is an explicit declaration that this is part of the British Commonwealth constitution.

The Guardian notes also that "The Irish Free State has taken a firm stand against appeals from Irish courts being carried to the judicial committee of the privy council. This The Commonwealth constitution, a non-contentious issue with Dominions other than the Irish Free State.

New Air Service

Passenger Aeroplane Flight From Detroit to Winnipeg

St. Paul, Minn.—The proposed freight and passenger aeroplane route from Detroit to St. Paul was extended to Fargo, N.D., and Winnipeg, Man., under plans made at a conference of officials interested in the Ford reliability aeroplane tour.

The conference decided to start the new air service next spring. Pilots of the planes participating in the reliability tour tuned up their machines this morning for the hop today to Des Moines, Ia.

Defeats Two More Swimmers

Cape Gris Nez.—The turbulent English Channel again has turned back two persons who aspired to swim it. They are Mme. Jean Seon, a French woman, and Jean Perrault, a Canadian.

Starting from Cape Gris Nez at 10:15 o'clock at night they swam until 4 o'clock in the morning, when the heavy seas and rain squalls compelled them to abandon their attempt to get across to Dover.

Paints Lake Louise Against Time

The scenic beauty of Lake Louise, although portrayed on canvas many times by celebrated artists, still makes excellent material for the artists who have done their best to reproduce the colors surrounding this gem of the Rockies and make it realistic enough to draw the admiration of the general public.

The above photo shows Belmore Brown, of Banff, the well-known Canadian artist, at work on a picture of Lake Louise from a balcony of the Canadian Pacific hotel named after the lake. Mr. Brown is painting this picture for an exhibition which will shortly take place in England, and has promised to have it ready in two weeks' time.

Siberian Slayers Sentenced To Death

Gang Killed Whole Families and Peasants Were Terrorized

Tyumen, Siberia.—Ten desperadoes were sentenced to death here for the murder of more than 100 victims.

Chief among the condemned was the notorious woman, Ekaterina Pishanov, wife of the leader of the gang, who himself was known to the intimidated peasantry as the "Jack the Ripper of the Ural Mountains."

The woman was accused of killing her victims with an axe.

The robbers had been organized into a strong band of several scores with rigid rules, the slightest infraction of which was punishable by death. For two years the district had been terrorized by these criminals who were accused of having killed whole families.

They attacked government warehouses, strangled the guards and seized stores of vodka and textiles which they sold at a great profit.

The crimes of these robbers and of others who emulated them grew so frequent and so bold that the Soviet minister of internal affairs sent a commission to Tyumen with forces strong enough to restore order.

Tyumen is the oldest Russian town in Siberia, about 120 miles north-west of Tobolsk. It formerly was of great importance as a depot of Russian-Chinese trade.

Canada Has Received Another Gold Shipment

Makes Over Six Million From New York in Two Weeks

New York.—A shipment of $1,000,000 of gold to Canada has been announced by the Bank of Montreal, a continuation of the movement that started about two weeks ago in response to the strong premium on Canadian exchange. The Canadian dollar was quoted at a premium of five thirty seconds of one per cent, which is about the level at which the bulk of the recent shipments were made.

A total of $6,500,000 of gold has been shipped to Canada since the beginning of the present movement. The strength in exchange is attributed to the heavy financing that was done here recently on behalf of Canadian industries.

Report Is Denied

Winnipeg.—Reports that the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool had withdrawn from the central selling agency of the three western pools were denied here by D. L. Smith, selling agent, who said "there is no truth for the report."

Will Aid Settlers

Victoria.—By order-in-council the cabinet has voted $25,000 to aid settlers who suffered losses in a recent tornado in the Spring Lake district of the Cariboo country near Prince George.

INCREASE SHOWN IN PRELIMINARY CENSUS REPORT

Ottawa.—An average increase of nearly five per cent in the population of twenty federal electoral districts in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, as compared with 1921 figures, is shown by the quinquennial census of the three prairie provinces taken as of June 1. The total population for these 26 electoral districts is given as 863,526, contrasted with 735,308 in 1921.

This announcement is made in a preliminary statement of population issued by the Dominion bureau of statistics. Further announcement of the census of the thirty-four remaining electoral districts in these provinces will be made shortly.

Ten federal electoral districts in Manitoba, five in Saskatchewan and five in Alberta, are included in The statement. In Manitoba, all electoral districts covered show increases over the 1921 population. These are Brandon, Lisgar, Marquette, Selkirk, Springfield, St. Boniface, Winnipeg North, Winnipeg North Centre, Winnipeg South and Winnipeg South Centre.

In Saskatchewan, Last Mountain, Long Lake, Regina and South Battleford recorded increases, while Swift Current showed a decrease of 329. Swift Current city, however, shows an increase as contrasted with its population in 1921, of 655.

In Alberta, Calgary East, Calgary West, Canadaland and Vegreville recorded increases, while Medicine Hat shows a reduction of 115 of this total. Of the 54 cities and towns mentioned and located in the 20 federal electoral districts covered in the statement, 35 show increase in population over 1921 figures, while 19 show decreases.

The figures now given, it is distinctly pointed out, are subject to correction, as certain adjustments on account of closed houses and absences, as well as of the population of certain Indian reserves which were reported by agency only, remain to be made.

Studying Conditions For British Women

Lady Cecil Is Spending Some Time in Western Canada

Winnipeg.—The Hon. Lady Cecil, C.B.E., is travelling across Canada in the interests of the society for the overseas settlement of British women, of which she is vice-chairman. Lady Cecil spent a day or two at Calgary, studying opportunities for settlement of British women as domestic nurses or nurses in government, and making a general survey of the success of the work in which she is interested. She visited at the Chateau Lake Louise, going from there to Kelowna to inspect the hostel which her society has established in the Okanagan.

This is Lady Cecil's first visit to Western Canada, though she and her daughter have spent several months visiting in the east. Their home is at Lytchett Heath, Dorset, with a town house in London.

Will Welcome Channel Swimmer

Blasden, Germany.—This little Wurttemberg town, near Stuttgart, is all excitement over the promised visit of Gertrude Ederle, the New York girl who recently swam the English Channel, to see her grandmother.

Officials, athletic clubs, and singing societies will vie with the 77-year-old Mrs. George Ederle, owner of the Lamb's Inn, to prepare for a hearty reception.

To Control Phones

Brussels, Belgium.—The telephone and telegraph services of Belgium will be placed under the management of an organization similar to that controlling the railways, under the terms of a bill the government has decided to introduce in parliament.

Has Month's Immunity

Ottawa.—For a period of one month, a resident of the United States, may bring his car into Canada without having to file a bond with, or pay duty to, the Canadian customs officials.

A Superb Dive Against Superb Scenery

One of the most remarkable photographs ever taken in the Canadian Rockies, a work of art that blends in equal proportions beauty, grace, poise, in one unique effect against a background of noble mountain scenery, is shown here where Miss Lydia Fulcher, fancy diver, is portrayed high in air poised like a bird as though flying over Saddle-back Mountain in the infinitesimal fraction of a second before she sinks to cleave the waters of the pool.

The swimming pool where she is staging her great art is the newly constructed one of Lake Louise,
about 90 feet long and 8 feet deep.
There are springboards at different heights to suit the expert or amateur diver and the water is warm enough to attract those who are chary of attempting the cooler swimming in Lake Louise itself.

Miss Fulcher champion of the Canadian Swimming Club is a true mermaid of the Canadian West. She learned to swim in the Canadian Government's great pool, "The Cave and Basin," at Banff when she was a mere child. She became a champion last year at the Banff Winter Carnival when swimmers were diving into the Cave and Basin filled with hot sulphur water from Sulphur Mountain, when the temperature outside was hovering around the zero mark, while the water of the pool was well within summer temperatures.

Here and There

Mayor Martin, of Montreal, on behalf of 100 pilgrims to the Eucharistic Congress at Chicago, recently presented a handsome engraved gold watch to Edward P. Whelan, city ticket agent of the C.P.R., at Winder Station, Montreal, in appreciation of the care and attention bestowed upon them by Mr. Whelan, who accompanied the party on their journey to Chicago.

The second greatest half-year in the history of the Canadian Pacific Railway has been completed with the month of July, the official financial statement for this period showing an increase in the gross earnings over the preceding six months of $10,071,966.56. The increase in the net profits for the same period amounted to $5,169,341, or an increase nearly double that of the previous half year in 1925.

Following a slight recession in April the production of automobiles
in Canada continued its upward trend in May to reach a new high level of 24,934 units, valued at $15-761,618. This output compares with 21,502 units, worth $13,754,390 in the previous month. For the five months ending May the cumulative production was 103,127 units, valued at $68,512,429, as against 78,227 units valued at $49,497,938 in the corresponding period last year.

Canada leads the nations of the world in the proportion of years of prosperity to years of depression, says a report now in preparation by the National Bureau of Economic Research, Ltd., an American organization. Covering the period 1884-1924, Canada shows 188 years of prosperity per year of depression.
The United States comes next on the list with 179 years of prosperity per year of depression, covering the period 1890-1923.

Definite indications of the largest building year Canada has had in more than a decade are now shown by the record of the first six months of this year. The very large and unusual total of $19,543,000 worth of new construction for the first half of the current year and contemplated
new work to the value of $304,598-500 forecasts great activity for the remaining months. During June contracts awarded totaled $54,186-400, an increase over June, 1925, of 63 per cent.

One of the greatest foundations upon which the Canadian national spirit rests was laid by the Canadian Pacific Railway was the conviction uttered by J. D. Cameron, of Glasgow, in an address before an audience at Pembroke recently. "Not merely did this railroad act," he said, "as a bond between all the provinces of the Confederation, but it was, by its conception and final construction, a greater force than anything else for the unification of the scattered provinces."

The sea-faring settlers of the Ho-brides are not all fishermen as one might expect, but farmers in a small way known in the rugged northern Islands as crofters. Father R. A.
MacDonnell, the clergyman in charge of the immigration of these hardy folk to Western Canada, disclosed
this interesting point recently en route to his headquarters at Red Deer, Alberta. Father MacDonnell has been in Canada about fifteen years and has been engaged in immigration work during that time.

The Earl of Clarendon is responsible for the statement that of the 85 families whom he personally interviewed, sent out to Canada under the Overseas Settlement League, he has not met with one malcontent.
He intimated that the settlers were unanimous in the opinion that Canada had been good to them. His Lordship, accompanied by the Coun-tees of Clarendon and their three children, Lord Hyde, Lady Joan Villers and Hon. Nicholas Villers, is making a study of the immigration problem as he travels to Banff, Lake Louise, and other points west in the Dominion.

"I'd afraid I would be awfully funny to you," she said to Yvonne, her excitement at the prospect playing in her voice. "I can't be still, for long, because there is so much I want to do but can't think of, that I just run around in circles."

"But I'll help you, perhaps," Yvonne assured her. "I shall have as enjoyable a time about cycling you launch yourself, as you, yourself. There will be a motor car to buy—and I've never got over my fondness for picking out motor cars; and jewels and clothes—it will be a lark, truly!"

Joanna would have yielded to Yvonne's suggestion that to-night would be as good as any other time, but while they waited in the foyer of the restaurant-club for Brandon's car and Yvonne's, Brandon murmured to her:

"Decisions made after midnight are not always safest. Yvonne will come to me tomorrow, as warmly as to-night. And tomorrow will do you just as well. I am going to drive you home."

"You mean," Joanna said, lightly, "to the rooming-house. Whatever I do, or wherever I go, you must remember that I haven't any—!" She waited a while, while she bit at her lips. Then she finished: "That I haven't had any home, for a long time!"

CHAPTER XII.

Joanna Visits Eggleston

So Joanna, a billow of snow white ermine, nestled in the cushions of Brandon's limousine, went happily to the place she had called home. Went to the rooming house where Mrs. Adams' lost her sleep over flapper lodgers. She thought it would be for the last time.

Realization that she was rich, fabulously rich like Yvonne Constant; like a movie star, like Mrs. Delaney Jordan, with whose son Bob Joanna once had a date, negotiated over his mother's shoulder at the silk counter, had settled at last in her groping brain. Her fight for understanding of the fantastic thing that had happened to her was over, soothed away by the retrospects of the evening. The feel of the ermine against her cheeks and throat and shoulders, the newness of Brandon, who wore his evening clothes so smartly, the prospects of the morrow when she would move into the aura of Yvonne, the symbol of life, throbbing through her pulses and suffused her alert body with a gentle glow. For the twentieth time she resolved to puzzle no more about the source of the money or the reason of it. Something would happen to her, of course. She'd meet it on tiptoes. One thing, though, she must square up. Brandon, whatever his part in her affairs, mustn't think she was—well, the kind of a bell that is all clapper and no ring. She taxed him suddenly:

"Why didn't you want me to go to Miss Coutant's tonight? It would have been much easier than tomorrow."

"A wholly selfish reason," Brandon informed her. "You're an important person to someone, you know, for some reason. Decisions you make now are of consequence. I'd rather not have the responsibility of delivering you into anybody's guidance. Then you won't be able to tell me about it later on, if you feel like it."

"Do you think I shall ever be sorry?"

"Decisions made after midnight are not always safest. I'm going to drive you home," said Brandon.

"That doesn't follow. Certainly, though, Yvonne Coutant represents a distinct threat of what life owes its dependents. You wouldn't adopt her as a counselor in the same impulse that would lead you to go in for—let us say, uplift?"

"Yet you want me to go to her, to learn from her what to do with my money, to spend it her way, and to become like her? You knew she was going to ask me. You arranged it."

"She said that she had struck home. For a brief moment Brandon was perturbed. Then he smiled to her face. "When you begin to accuse me, I know I'm getting on," he murmured.

"Oh, I shall let you get on fast enough until I know what's what. Then—"

"And then what?"

"There's no use going to a funeral until somebody's dead, is there? We won't be downhearted now."

When he stood with her for parting minutes in the rooming house reception hall, where a dim light burned its grin reproach to young ladies who breezed in from midnight to four, Brandon suddenly took Joanna's hands in his and gently drew her to him until she stood quite close, so that she took his chin to look into his face. For a moment she was panic-stricken. "It was the prelude of a kiss, she thought. She didn't want Brandon to kiss her. Her lips burned at the threat of it. She would not protest if he asked her, or if he took his career without asking. But it would spoil the evening. Still, when chaps were decent and had contributed what might be called a good time for lack of a better phrase, there was a rule coin with which to reward them—the coin that passed frankly as currency. But she didn't want Brandon to take it, and he didn't."

He held her hands and looked down into her eyes silently. She met his gaze steadily, unafraid, but quivering

"She had reasoned to herself that tonight she had discovered a clue to her fear and dislike of this cynical, good looking, perfectly poised man, who impressed her always as if he was taking charge of her. It would be woman, she thought. The woman in her leaped to the defensive before him, and with a sense of futility. Kenworthy she could battle on his own ground. Brandon tortured women, she had concluded. She wasn't ready yet to meet him fairly."

But he spoke softly. "Do you know," he said, "I shouldn't be surprised if you'd win through after all!" She caught her breath. "Win through? Why—what?"

He dropped her hands instantly, and his manner changed. "You must forget that," he said, smiling again. "It's another case of a funeral with nobody dead yet. At least don't remember it for a long time."

Georgie, her own new hats and wraps and gowns, Joanna's shower of gifts, hung from the door top, the chandelier and either side of the mirror, so that she might pop back on the bed pillows and examine them, was awake and waiting. She refused all invitations for the evening, both sentimental and hilarious, frankly admitting she couldn't leave her wardrobe at home alone. Joanna threw off her momentary depression, the aftermath of Brandon's sententiousness, and plunged into a gay recital of the night's events. Then Georgie broached her own news.

"John was here tonight," she announced. "He was at the bank today. Mr. Eggleston sent for him. Mr. Graydon at the store had told Mr. Eggleston what you had said—that John had suggested the place the money came from. The bank wanted to put him right. John got it all through his half baked mind and he's like a bird dog that's been pointing the wrong way."

Joanna sat up to the bed, the wistfulness haunting her eyes again. Her plans for the morrow began to crumble, and in their place rose something else, vague and unshapen, but before it she stood side by side with John. Then with a petulant shake of her shoulders she reassembled her plans, and the arrogance came back into the tilt of her chin.

"But he hurt, Georgie. I don't think—"

"Oh, you can arrange things to suit yourself," Georgie assured her wisely. "He's got six cylinders under the hood maybe, but only one works. I've always told you he was full of carbon. He's frightfully cut up."

"That's not it. I know he would be some day. It wasn't me he suspected so much as it was anybody, any girl, I mean, who's got knees and isn't ashamed to show them. I'm going to—"

"What?" Georgie prompted her, but Joanna bit her lips and wouldn't finish her sentence.

Anti-British Sentiment

This Propaganda is Spread All Over

The British Government was seriously exercised by the flood of anti-British propaganda which is spread all over France, stimulated by the fall of the franc.

What Paris has shown particular antagonism to Americans, the French people in the country attribute the rise in the cost of living to the pound sterling and are still inclined to regard most foreigners as Englishmen. The result is a feeling of irritation and hostility towards Britain all over France.

This is due, of course to ignorance of the situation, but its existence is nevertheless disquieting.

New Theory About the Moon

Was Formed From Layer of Earth's Crust is Belief

A new theory is now being put forth that the moon was formed from a layer of the earth's crust, about 41 miles thick, and covering about two-thirds of its total area, and which was pulled off by the attraction of the sun. The crustal area left on earth formed the continents. This theory also accounts for the fact that while, according to generally accepted ideas, masses of lighter density such as make up the earthly continents should cover the entire surface of the globe, they actually cover only about a third, the missing two-thirds consisting of the moon. The new theory also fits in with the ideas of a German geologist, Professor Alfred Wegener, who believes the American continent was originally united with Europe and Africa, and that it floated away to its present place. This would not have been possible so long as the entire earth was covered with such a crust, but after the moon had been torn away it was possible for the continents to separate from their long embrace.

Little Helps For This Week

There shall be one fold and one shepherd.—John 1, 16.

Wild bird flying northward, whither thou?

And vessel bending southward, what thy quest?

Clouds of the east with sunshine on your brow,

Whither? and crescent setting in the west!

Still we pursue while the white day is ours;

The wild bird journeys northward in his strength;

The tender clouds waste in their sunny bowers,

One shepherd guides and gathers them at length.

He will guide us in a sure path, though it be a rough one; though shadows hang upon it, yet he will be with us. He will bring us home at last. By his eye, or by his voice he will guide us, if we be docile and penitent; by his staff and by his rod, if we wander or are wilful; and by all means He will bring us to His rest.—Henry Edward Manning.

A Remedy for Earache.—To have the earache is a cruel torture. The ear is a delicate organ and few care to deal with it, considering it work for a doctor. SAVE THE CHILDREN

In Summer When Childhood Ailments Are Most Dangerous

Mothers who keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house may feel that the lives of their little ones are reasonably safe during the hot weather. Stomach troubles, cholera infantum and diarrhoea, carry off thousands of little ones every summer; in most cases because the mother does not have a safe medicine at hand to give promptly. Baby's Own Tablets relieve these troubles, or if given occasionally to the well child they will prevent their coming. The Tablets are guaranteed by a government analyst to be absolutely harmless even to the new born babe. They are especially good in summer because they regulate the bowels and keep the stomach sweet and pure. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

C.N.R. Earnings Show Increase

The gross earnings of the Canadian National Railways for the period ended July 31, 1925, were $7,498,538, as compared with $7,059,027 for the corresponding period of 1924, an increase of $439,512, or five per cent.

Miller's Worm Powders, being in demand everywhere, can be got at any chemist's or drug shop, at very small cost. They are a reliable remedy for worm troubles and can be fully relied upon to expel worms from the system and abate the sufferings that worms cause. There are many mothers who rejoice that they found available so effective a remedy for the relief of their children.

THE WHEAT POOL AND TRADING IN FUTURES

(Quoted from the Chicago Price Current-Grain Reporter, issue of August 16, 1916)

The feature of the last day of the month's trading was the heavy deliveries of wheat to the trade by the wheat pool. It is estimated that at least 3,000,000 bush of the total deliveries for the day were from the pool. The pool all the week has been pounding the market and checked any advances by throwing in the stuff in chunks.

This is perfectly legitimate business. The pool is a member of the exchange and is entitled to the facilities provided for it as a member. Its operations in futures are on a very large scale.

But the promoters and propagandists responsible for its organization announced that one of the main objects of the pool was to break up the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. It was also frequently preached by the farmer's friends that short selling was crime, that future trading and hedg-ing were unnecessary as far as the wheat was concerned, that it was infact inaugurating a new and enlightened method of marketing. This buncombe was swallowed by a lot of farmers, but not all. From now on the highly paid pool propagandists will find their ingenuity taxed to explain
At that, you can't fool all of the people all of the time.

The Canadian Co-operative Wheat Producers, Ltd. (The Wheat Pool) is in the limelight these days. The public and the pool members have been informed that officials of the company suffered from writer's cramp from signing checks, and how millions of dollars have been distributed among the members of the pool by the interim payment of July 26.

So far members have received $1.40 a bushel for No. 1 Northern wheat. In a statement issued by pool officials they led to hope that they may get a little more. The president of the Manitoba pool offers a word of comfort to the pool paid $1.60
all told last year. He did not depress his clients by telling them that on a whole lot of grades and mixtures there was nothing more coming. However, they know it now that they have their checks.

On the trading floor of the Exchange the feature of the past week has been the heavy and persistent selling of futures by "A certain big interest." Brokers do not divulge the names of their customers, but all traders know where this selling is coming from. This short selling is on the face of it by parties who have the wheat to deliver and mean to deliver it.

As it is, $1.40 a bushel looks small compared to $1.52 1/2, the average price paid by the trade. It would look smaller should the average price
by the end of the crop year be $1.60 or over.

The general conclusion is that the big interest is more interested in keeping prices down than in any other policy for the present.

On Display Next Week.

The New Essex "68" Coach, with all steel, bolted and riveted, clear vision body, will be on view in Stony Plain for three days next week, beginning Thursday Aug. 20. You will have a higher appreciation of the advantages of these improvements when you know that a plant of 18 acres which with equipment approximated
a cost of $10,000,000, was first built and that special machinery had to be designed to make possible the New Coach to be shown here next week.

It is all steel, bolted and riveted, and so rigid that squeaks, rattles and distortions are as unlikely as in a steel building. Doors are so lung that a man may hang on an open door while the car is being driven over rough roads without springing it out of true.

And it is so designed and constructed as to permit the use in a totally new manner of a high-baked enamel, most lustrous and lasting finish.

There has been constant improvement in the chassis
from the first Essex shipped.
But only by the accumulation of the resources, the information, experience and the skill that have resulted from the building of 350,000 Essex
"Sixes" was it possible to create this car which we ask you to inspect and to drive as the best looking, best value,
best Essex ever built.

Mr Brumelle will be pleased to see you Thursday, Friday or Saturday of next week at Stony Plain Garage, when a demonstration will then be given you of the best car, for the price, on the market at the present time.
